NORMAL AND OTHER SCHOOLS IN MASSACHUSETTS.

This community is rapidly learning that its schools are of great importance not only to the scholars and our social welfare, but to the finances of the city. We are paying tremendously to educate our children. It is a public duty that cheerfully borne, for it is of the foremost consequence.

And it may be interesting to know what the commonwealth as a whole is doing for its school children and school teachers. From the sixtieth report of the Massachusetts State Board of Education we learn that there were 421,353 pupils in our public schools, an increase of 11,000; the number of pupils in academies was 5,934 and in private schools including parochial 61,090.

The number of teachers employed has been 12,275 of whom 1078 were men and 11,197 were women. Of these 4540 had attended normal school and 3303 were graduates of normal schools.

Forty-nine cities and towns have maintained evening schools, with 1,197 teachers and 20,550 pupils, at an expense of $176,994.02 or $7.77 per pupil. The percentage of attendance was 53.

The expense of our Massachusetts schools is enormous, and for the year 1896 the item of normal school training is notable. The state valuation for 1896 was $2,545,845.98. The amount expended for wages of teachers, fuel, care of rooms and transportation of children was $2,859,000, an increase of $139,470.42; for supervision, $316,674.07, an increase of $7,090.08; for text books and supplies, $322,652.91—a decrease of $9,126.10; for new schoolhouses, $2,400,000.87, the largest annual expense for this purpose ever incurred, and showing an increase of $729,924.27.

The grand total expended upon the public schools for all purposes, including the foregoing amounts, and an additional amount of $234,605.33 derived from voluntary contributions, $5,337,371.15, income of school funds, $102,277.50, tax on dogs, etc., $2,642.05, and the income of the school fund, $68,964.82, reaches the large sum of $4,650,000 on each thousand dollars of the state valuation, or $11,929,100.61. The state is $1,167,854.38 more than last year.

Cost of the schools per pupil, based on the amount expended for public schools exclusive of repairing and erecting school houses, $8.659,562.29; and on the number of children between five and fifteen is $20.70. When based on average membership the cost is $24.73.

The normal schools last the past year 1,185 pupils and sent out 397 graduates. They admitted 423 new pupils, candidates having been examined in high school subjects for the first time in our normal school history. All the normal schools, old and new, have, or will have, as present enterprises, are complete, and beautiful and spacious sites, fine buildings and admirable equipment. The State and Fitchburg schools have just entered their new buildings. The North Adams school will open February 1. The Barnstable and Lowell schools in September next, all in their new buildings. The Fitchburg school, the first of the new schools to open, has now 108 pupils and 10 teachers; its model and practice schools have 338 pupils and 15 teachers. Should professional training be demanded of all new teachers, the ten normal schools would be taxed to their utmost. Over 1,500 vacancies occur annually in the schools, while the normal schools send out about 300 graduates annually.

The great lack of the Cuban insurgents, according to Macco's successor, is equipment. They need arms and ammunition, not men. Recruits from the United States are not desirable unless they can speak the Spanish language. Holders who cannot understand the orders of the commanders or the language of the people of the country are a manifestly at a disadvantage, and their linguistic deficiency might be the cause of serious trouble in a vital emergency. There are Cubans enough on the island ready to take up arms for the cause of freedom, and they will join the insurgents as rapidly as they can be properly equipped by the friends of the Cuban cause in the United States. Meanwhile they must be content themselves as to be able to maintain the situation that is favorable to their waiting policy, and incur the enmity of the Spaniards and cause the latter to become more rigid in their surveillance.

Rev. Fr. Conaty's address in assuming the tutorship of the Catholic university at Washington was very liberal and broad. It rang with Americanism. We notice with pleasure his remark about one department of the university: "Primarily established for the education of Catholics, the McMahon school of philosophy opens its doors to all earnest seekers after knowledge, no matter what their color or religious beliefs, provided they are graduates of college or university."

In his classes today are prominent non-Catholics, some of whom are colored, who as students seek for the culture which Catholic scientists and teachers are prepared to give. The world grows more liberal every day.

Only two states in the Union elect state officers and Legislatures annually, and we all know what the nature of those states is. The people of Massachusetts, by inadvertence we must believe, voted down a proposition for biennial elections last year. We were still, however, to have annual legislative sessions. But the drift in other states continues toward leaving us in more complete and striking isolation in these respects—ground, gloomy and peculiar. All but two of the states having gone to biennial elections, all save six have gone to biennial legislative sessions, and none save six have a constitutional amendment in pending in their state legislatures bringing that state into line with the great majority against annual sessions—Springfield Republican.

The two days' inquest on the death of Mrs. McCloud, held at Shelburne Falls, does not reveal very much. The case against O'Neil, as revealed, is a mighty slant one. It amounts to about this: that he began spending some money the night of the murder when he had before not had any money. Well, that is not evidence that warrants anything more than suspicion—it would not hang a dog. The state will have to make a stronger case against O'Neil than it has done yet even to warrant trying him before a jury.

The proposed changes in the city charter are very generally commended. If the principle of concentration of authority with accompanying responsibility, is correct, then these proposed changes are right.

Williams college has $100,000 less lawyers fees because of the Fayerweather will case decision.

Welcome snow but no welcome to rain.

THE EDITOR'S SHEARS.

FOR TODAY.

The Good Old Art. Some months ago with the art of printing the master.

For the first time in the history of the art, the master of the art.

With others, with the ready pen. Final hours of day's labor.

In polished prose or in verse, again. In light, poetic measure.

Another, like a woodland bird. May out the world's ringing.

With carols sweet as ever heard. With the new art of singing.

But there's a man, and there's an art. To which the world is looking.

The nearest art unto the heart. The good old art of cooking.

—Farm and Fireside.

THE FLOWER.

Weeping, grieve forth the sower on his way. Weeping, though he beareth precious seed.

Weeping, though he beareth precious seed. Weeping, though he beareth precious seed.

His weeping for the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

For the seed that will not stay. For the seed that will not stay.

The 60th report of the state board of education was presented to the Legislature Wednesday. It contains many figures of interest and a number of recommendations. The number of persons between the ages of 5 and 15 in the state May 1, 1906, was 417,325, an increase over the preceding year of 8,817; the number of persons between the ages of 16 and 21 was 234,831, an increase of 11,400. The number of pupils in academies was 5994, in private schools, including parochial, 61,020. The number of different teachers employed during the year was 12,375, of whom 1073 were men and 11,197 were women. The number of teachers' positions is 10,682, an increase of 73. Four thousand five hundred and forty teachers have attended normal schools, of whom 3903 are graduates. There are 237 high schools, an increase of five, with 1198 teachers, an increase of 32, and 31,323 pupils, and increase of 1573. Forty-nine cities and towns have maintained evening schools, with 1137 teachers and 30,556 pupils, at an expense of $178,704.01, or $5.77 per pupil. The percentage of attendance was 63. The normal schools had, the past year, 1136 pupils and sent out 307 graduates. They admitted 123 new pupils, candidates having been examined in high school subjects for the first time in our normal school history. The State and Fitchburg schools have just entered their new buildings. The Barnstable (Hyannis) and Lowell schools in September next, all in their new buildings. The Fitchburg school, the first of its new schools to open, now has 108 pupils and ten teachers; its model and practice schools have 580 pupils and 15 teachers. Should proper social training be demanded of all new scholars, the ten normal schools would be taxed to their utmost. Over 1500 vacancies occur annually in the academies, while the normal schools send out about 300 graduates annually.

At Superior Court.

The following cases of local interest were heard at the superior court Wednesday. The first jury heard the cases of Napoleon Voda and Etta Wilson for adultery, both of this city. The jury returned a disagreement, after being out nearly all the afternoon. They stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

Lawyer Couch filed a motion to quash the complaint against Dwight D. Tenney of Adams, who was fined $300, and appealed for distributing literature about Julius C. Anthony, who was nominated in that district for representative last fall. The motion sets up that the paper did not reflect on Anthony's personal character, but merely referred to Anthony's birth, and a circumstance regarding it, which Lawyer Couch claims is no reflection. The matter comes up on a law question, and is interesting.

Whalen-Rogers.

DELAWARE SENATORSHIP

Kenny Leaves for Washington To Present His Credentials—Kemp Manifesto.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 21.—Richard R. Kenny, whose certificate of election as United States senator was signed by the speaker and clerks of the legislature and by Gov. Tammell yesterday afternoon, left this morning for Washington to present his claims for the seat now claimed by Mr. Delmonico. The Addicks, or "rump," general assembly held two sessions yesterday, at the first of which Mr. Addicks was declared elected United States senator. Late in the afternoon the body adjourned, and after having listened to the reading of a long manifesto, which was adopted, reviewing the political situation in the state. An appeal is made to congress to see that the constitutional guarantee of a republican form of government for each state is made a fact. In conclusion the manifesto declares "that the last general election in this state was fraudulently determined by the state boards of canvass, and that men claiming seats in both houses of congress bear credentials made invalid by fraud, and, in behalf of the people of the state, we petition for a recount under the direction and supervision of a commission appointed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of the votes cast at the last general election in Delaware."

STATEMENT BY PRITCHARD.

Says His Re-election Shows That Middle of the Road Populists Are in the Saddle.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 21.—The following statement was issued by Senator Pritchard after his re-election yesterday to the senate: "This victory means that the middle of the road populists are in the saddle. It means that Col. Skinner is not only the leader of the populist party in North Carolina, but by his able management of his interests he has demonstrated the fact that he will rank in the future as the leader of the populist cause. He has observed every pledge that his party made to the republican party two years ago, and in so doing he has not required a single pledge from me or any other republican, and without any sacrifice of the silver cause, because he knows I occupy the same position now I did two years ago."

PRISONERS IN CUBA

Pardons To Be Granted Only To Minor Political Offenders.

RELEASES TO BE MADE PROVISIONAL

Orders Received by Weyler from Madrid Disprove Rumors That a Decree of General Amnesty Was To Be Issued on the King's Birth Day.

Havana, Jan. 21.—The eleventh anniversary of the birth of King Alfonso XIII will be celebrated here on the 23d inst. Orders have been received by Capt. Gen. Weyler from the government at Madrid to review the cases of the political prisoners now in custody in the Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces and to grant a provisional release to all those who are held upon charges of minor importance and are not connected in a responsible way with the revolution in Cuba.

OLNEY TOO BUSY.

Reported That He Declined an Offer by Spain To Settle the Cuban Trouble.

London, Jan. 21.—The Daily News today publishes a dispatch from Paris saying it is reported there that Senator Canovas del Castillo, the Spanish premier, has stated to his friends that if Gen. Weyler does not succeed in crushing the revolution in Cuba by the time the rainy season sets in he (Canovas) will resign. The writer of the dispatch asserts that negotiations were proceeding between the governments at Madrid and Washington with a view of settling the trouble in Cuba, and that Prime Minister Canovas was preparing to announce that the war in the island was ended, when the premier was surprised and dismayed by the receipt last week of an intimation from Washington that Secretary of State Olney had not time to settle the Cuban question and would relegate it to the administration of President-elect McKinley.

DEATH OF HENRY DELGADO.

Due Primarily to Exposure and Hardships Endured in Cuba.

New York, Jan. 21.—The death of Henry Delgado, which was announced in a Havana dispatch to the state department, Washington, yesterday, was primarily due to the exposure to which he subjected himself immediately after he landed in Cuba. He tripped nearly 300 miles through the hilly sections of Pinar del Rio and became so exhausted that he was taken down with fever. He sought a refuge in one of the huts which the insurgents use as field hospitals. There he was captured by the Spaniards under command of Gen. Melquizar. The Spanish general gave orders that the correspondent should be shot on the spot, as two of his companions had been. But he discovered the identity of the sick man and, fearing further complications with the United States government (as he was the same soldier who assaulted the venerable Jose Delgado, which has resulted in a claim against the Spanish government), the prisoner's life was spared. He was immediately sent to Havana with word that he might possibly be Pedro Delgado of Florida, for whom a reward of $5,000 had been offered. The young man was sent to San Ambrosia hospital. Here he developed an abscess of the liver and underwent a surgical operation. He succumbed a few days later owing to his weakened condition as the result of the fever. Mr. Delgado was born in this city and lived nearly all his life here and in Brooklyn. He was a graduate of Mount Pleasant Military academy. He married a Miss Granger of Hudson, N. Y., some years ago. His widow is now in New York. They have one child, C. R. Green, a brother-in-law of Delgado, will see that the body is embalmed and sent to New York. The authorities at Havana will permit the shipment.

Delgado's Body.

Havana, Jan. 21.—The body of Henry Delgado, the correspondent of a New York newspaper, who died in the San Ambrosia hospital here yesterday, has been ordered to be held at the disposal of United States Consul General Lee, who immediately cabled the announcement of his death to Washington and requested the authorities to notify the family of the dead man and ascertain if they wished his body to be sent to the United States.

Found Death in a Letter to Her Lover.

In sealing this letter her tongue received the laceration which ended in her death. In response to her letter her lover came back on Saturday, but only to find his sweetheart dying.

IRISHMEN REJOICING

News of Ivory's Release Cause Great Surprise in America.

BELIEVED HE WAS TO BE RAILROADED

Tynan Refuses To Discuss McIntyre's Statement That It Was the Belief in London That He Was in League with the British Police.

London, Jan. 21.—After the collapse of the Ivory trial yesterday afternoon and the discharge of the prisoner from custody, a representative of the United Associated Presses had an interview with John McIntyre, former assistant district attorney of New York county who came from America to assist in Ivory's defense. Mr. McIntyre said that when he arrived in London he found that the British counsel retained for the defense were disposed to put in a plea of guilty, but he had advised against such a course, for the reason that there was no evidence to justify Ivory's conviction. Mr. McIntyre highly commended the fairness of Sir K. B. Finlay, the solicitor general, in adopting the same view as that held by Ivory's advisers. Mr. McIntyre allowed the reporter to understand that the case was still a mystery. "The evidence given by Mr. Coll, the proprietor of the hotel at Antwerp, at which Kearney and Haines stopped," Mr. McIntyre said, "showed that a stranger had driven to the hotel and delivered a message of warning to Kearney and Haines on Sept. 11, two days before they were arrested in Rotterdam. I believe that the stranger was an agent of the police, and that the collapse of the government's case was due to him. The general opinion seems to be," continued Mr. McIntyre, "that Tynan and Kearney were in league with the police, and that nothing serious was intended by the police, who let the men go about as they chose. It is my belief, and that of many others, that the police did not intend to arrest any of the men, but an over-zealous detective at Bonington gave them away, by exposing the identity of Tynan." The general drift of comment upon the collapse of the case in London is that the whole thing was a police "fake." In discharging Ivory, Justice Hawkins said to him: "Keep no more doubtful company. It might bring you into grave trouble. Look to your future."

THE NEWS AT NEW YORK.

Ivory To Be Given a Grand Reception on His Return Home.

New York, Jan. 21.—The news of the discharge of Ivory came as a surprise to Irishmen here, for even the prisoner had looked upon the matter as a cut-and-dried affair. William Lyman, president of the Irish National alliance, who especially engaged John F. McIntyre in the defense of Ivory, when seen this morning said: "The withdrawal of the prosecution is the biggest blow that Scotland Yard has ever received. The English public has now had its eyes opened, and it can figure up for itself how many of the other unfortunate so-called dynamiters who were convicted on perjured testimony and who were driven mad, like Dr. Gallagher and Whitehead, were innocent. This is the first time that any defense has ever been attempted by an Irish-American arrested in England. The policy has been to leave them to their fate in the belief that it would be impossible to obtain justice from an English jury. I am glad of the result, as it will do a lot of good. I may say now that the prosecution did everything in its power to have Ivory plead guilty, saying that he would receive a nominal sentence or have sentence suspended. What will they do now with their informer, Jones? It is the only one thing I am sorry for since this fiasco that Ivory did not get an opportunity to show the scoundrel up in his true colors. But think how Jones must have gulped Scotland Yard. Why, Ivory had witnesses ready to prove that Jones, ever since he started from this country at the bidding of Scotland Yard, tried to induce men in Dublin to work up dynamite plots."

Tynan Refuses To Talk.

P. J. P. Tynan, the alleged Irish dynamiter, was at his home in Audubon Park, but refused to be seen or make any statement as to Ivory's acquittal or the statement of former Assistant District Attorney McIntyre that Tynan and Kearney were in league with the police. Mr. Tynan was not aware of the acquittal until informed of it in a note sent to him by a representative of the United Associated Presses. He sent back this word: "I am more than overjoyed at the news and profoundly grateful." Mr. Tynan also sent word that he is preparing a written statement on the whole affair which he will give to the newspapers over his own signature. He does not know when the statement will be finished, but expects to have it finished in the course of one or two days. "The Municipal" Ivory's saloon in this city, was the scene of great rejoicing last evening. A cable dispatch was received there from Ivory which read: "To the 'Municipal.' Released. Set 'em up, Ed." In a few minutes over a hundred of Ivory's friends had gathered. A committee was appointed to purchase flags and several hundred American and Irish flags were hung upon the face of the building. The windows of the upper floors of the house were trimmed with flags and an American banner was suspended across the street.

HANNA AT CANTON

The National Chairman Has a Long Conference with Maj. McKinley.

DISCUSSED MANY MEN AND MEASURES

He Will Visit Columbus To-morrow and Expects To Meet Gov. Bushnell—Secretary of Treasury Not Yet Chosen.

Canton, O., Jan. 21.—Though M. A. Hanna, chairman of the republican national committee came here yesterday afternoon mainly to discuss Ohio politics, it has been learned that he had a good deal to say about other matters and conferred with Major McKinley upon many men and measures of general interest. Mr. Hanna is going to Columbus to-morrow to be present at the reunion and banquet of the members of the Ohio legislature and he will respond to a toast. He expects on his visit there to have a conference with Gov. Bushnell. The selection of W. E. Mason of Illinois for the senate of the United States by the republican members of the legislature removes from the mind of the president-elect all fear of having an unfriendly senator from that state should he invite Senator Cullom into the cabinet. Senator Cullom is under active consideration at present. The correspondent of the United Associated Presses was informed upon high authority this morning that the president-elect has not chosen his secretary of the treasury and that the position is still open. U. S. Conger of Iowa, a former member of congress and minister to Brazil under the Harrison administration, called on Mr. McKinley last evening. He said: "Iowa hopes to have a member of the cabinet, and the chances of James Wilson for appointment to the position of secretary of agriculture seem very good. Mr. Wilson is most admirably equipped for this position. He is a practical farmer and owns and manages several fine and profitable farms. He is one of the foremost instructors in the science of agriculture in the country and has charge of the experimental station at the Iowa college of Agriculture. He was an excellent congressman and has held other official positions." C. A. Moore of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is active in state politics; Thos. W. Bradley of Walpole, N. Y., an "original McKinley man," and Martin Luscomb of Bridgeport, Conn., were also among Major McKinley's callers. Mr. Bradley is said to be a candidate for the important position of commissioner of pensions.

EIGHT RIOTERS KILLED.

And Many Wounded in an Encounter with Gendarmes in Hungary.

Vienna, Jan. 21.—Rolling mill employees at Anina, Hungary, having become discontented with the new pension scheme, became riotous yesterday afternoon, and made a fierce attack upon a force of gendarmes who had been sent to the scene of the disturbance to restore order. The officers attempted to disperse the rioters, but the latter stood their ground and a desperate fight ensued. The lieutenant in charge of the gendarmes becoming convinced that his force was not sufficient to quell the riot by other means finally gave the order to fire upon the mob. As a result of the gendarmes' fire eight of the rioters were killed and many seriously wounded. A number of the officers also were severely wounded during the melee.
